IS DEBT HARMLESS?

A leading exponent of the public-debt-without-limit philosophy reiterates that, "If the national debt is all internal, as ours is, the nation can hardly go bankrupt."

This philosophy will require more and more explaining as time goes on. People whose earnings and savings are reeling under the double impact of taxes and inflation, are going to ask some questions that will be hard to answer. Not being accomplished economists, they will inquire why, if the size of the debt is unimportant, should they be asked to pay heavier taxes as the debt increases? And why, if it is merely a matter of owing the debt to ourselves, should the tax collector be so merciless in collecting to the last penny?

The "owe ourselves" theorists have always claimed that as the debt grew, the affairs of the country could be so arranged that the debt would actually be beneficial. They call it a managed economy. Today we have a huge and growing debt plus a managed economy more complete than the believers in harmless debt ever dared hope for. We also have confiscatory taxation, uncontrolled strikes, rising prices, and shortages of everything from shoe laces to locomotives. The people are nearly convinced that the managed economy is a flop, and they are beginning to wonder just how harmless is debt. At any rate, they are demanding that government economize wherever possible; that is something tangible which they can understand.

The people in their collective wisdom may save the nation.

THE "IMPOSSIBLE"

A German officer, captured in the Tunisian campaign, asked to be shown the "secret weapon" that made our artillery fire so deadly accurate.

There was no secret weapon, but back of that amazing accuracy is a story—a story of an "impossible" achievement.

Prior to the war, 90 per cent of our precision lenses came from Europe—chiefly from Germany. We couldn't approach the German skill in this line—so we thought. Then came the war. Something had to be done.

Starting from scratch in the mass production of precision devices—gunsights, periscopes, binoculars—the prisms on some of which have to be accurate down to 2/1,000,000ths of an inch, American manufacturers didn't know it "couldn't be done"—so they did it. Now our products are superior to the best the Germans ever turned out.

Ever since Pearl Harbor, and even before, the "impossible" has been the rule not only in production but in the whole range of business. Just as we had to manufacture products almost completely foreign to us, so we had to develop new methods of business to solve other war-created problems.

When rationing began, the nation was launching into waters completely strange to us. American banks were called upon to keep the huge program in order. They had to develop an entirely new system to handle ration accounts for food dealers and others who received or paid ration stamps in their business. The scope of this undertaking is reflected in the fact that California's statewide branch banking system alone serves over 60,000 such accounts involving millions of transactions annually.

America is bigger than it was two years ago, more conscious of what it can do, and more than ever aware that there is no "impossible."

IN DANCING ROMANCE

Fred Astaire waited months to get Joan Leslie as his new dancing partner, and RKO Radio waited a like time before being able to co-star the two in its newest screen musical, "The Sky's the Limit." Above, the two are caught in a whirling moment from this gay dancing romance, which is said to top anything Astaire has done on the screen in many a day. Music is supplied by Freddie Slack and his orchestra, and hit tunes written by Harold Arlen and Johnny Mercer were incorporated in the body of the screen-play, currently at the Daly City theatre.

Feature Eighty Beauties In Folies

Dazzling dance sequences featuring eighty gorgeously costumed girls are part of the gay entertainment of the Folies Bergere now playing nightly at Winterland, in San Francisco..

All dances for the brilliant new show were directed by Aida Broadbent, famous danseuse and dance director in direct cooperation with Clifford C. Fischer, producer of the Folies Bergere.

Under Miss Broadbent's direction, the eighty beautiful girls, chosen for their beauty, talent and variety of type, perform rollicking polkas, exquisite ballet, and the daring French Can-Can.

The English born dance director says she has been dancing all her life. She was premiere danseuse and choreographer for six seasons at the Hollywood bowl where she holds the attendance record for ballet night at the bowl with her presentation of Ferde Grofe's Grand Canyon Suite in 1937.

Dance sequences for Anna Neagle in RKO pictures were staged by Miss Broadbent, as well as the routines for the moving picture "In Old Oklahoma."

Like many of the Folies' internationally known company, Miss Broadbent toured the Orient in 1936, when she danced in and directed the entire show. She directed all dance numbers for the Canadian Army show which broke all attendance records in Canada and is now enroute overseas.

Are you entitled to wear a "target" lapel button? You are if you are investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day. It's your badge of patriotism.

Eloquent Line

EASY STYLE and exquisite detail, trademark of Howard Greer's cinema creations, are shown in the model chosen for evening broadcasts by Gracie Allen, star of CBS "Burns and Allen" show. Paillettes fill the center of the gold-outlined design which emphasizes soft, sculptured shoulders and trims front pockets. The striking motif is repeated on the dress of this two-piece costume.

Our boys must keep on fighting—we must keep on buying WAR BONDS until victory is won. Keep on BACKING THE ATTACK.

How to Make a Better Cup of Coffee

EXPERIENCED brewers of really good coffee know there are only a few rules that must be followed:

1. They keep their coffee-making equipment CLEAN—washing it daily with soap and hot water, and rinsing it thoroughly.
2. They use coffee of the right grind and they use ENOUGH of it—at least a generous tablespoonful for each cup.
3. They brew their coffee by the CLOCK, timing it exactly to get results they know from experience will be most satisfactory.
4. They buy coffee which is GOOD and FRESH—choosing quality because they know a pound will average about 40 cupfuls, demanding freshness because staleness is coffee's greatest enemy.

If the coffee you make "leaves something to be desired", try those four simple rules!

Isn't it up to all of us civilians to hold down to fight the high cost of living? Here a portа

PURCHASING

Buy only what you really need. Spending can't create more goods. Excess buying only makes goods scarce and prices higher. So make everything you have last longer. "Use it up, wear it out, make it do, or do without."

PRICES

Price ceilings are for your protection. When you pay more, you're a party to a black market that boosts prices. And if prices go up through the ceiling, your money will be worth less. Buy rationed goods only with stamps.

TAXES

Pay them willingly. High taxes today are the cheapest way of paying for the war. And isn't it easier to pay higher taxes now while we have the extra money? Every dollar put into taxes is one dollar less to compete for available goods and push up prices.

DEBTS

Pay them off! That will make you independent now and make your position a whale of a lot safer against the day you may be earning less. So pay off every cent you owe—and avoid making new debts.

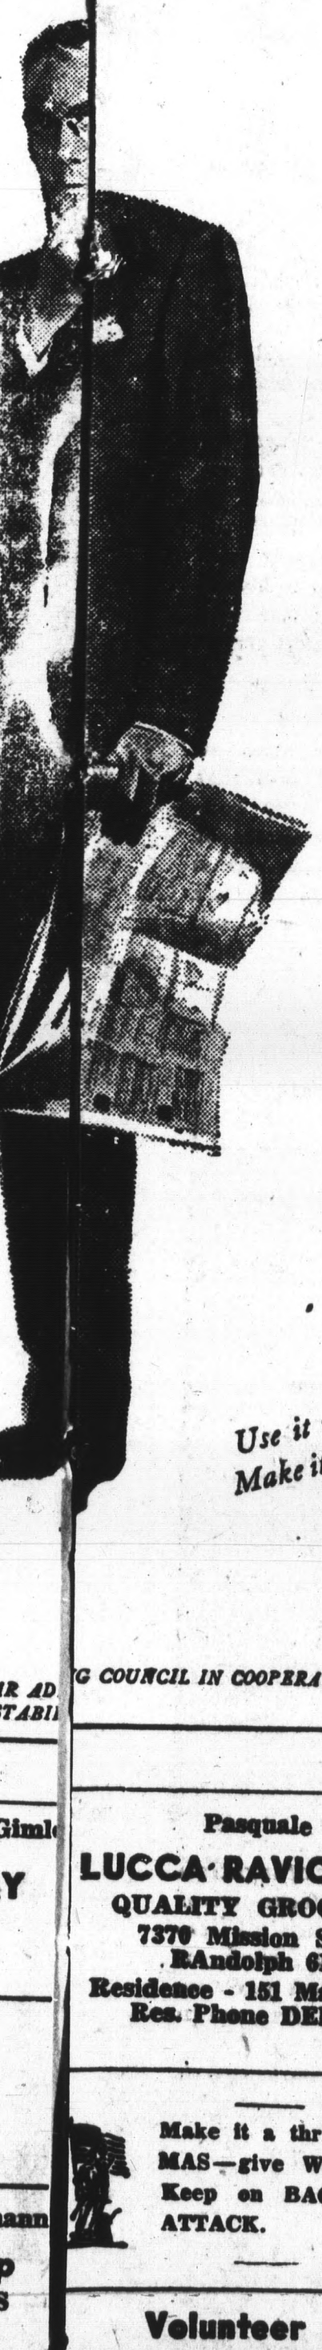
op to reason

hold down . . . isn't it to our own best interests
lere a portant ways we can help to hold down prices



WAGES

Don't ask more money in prices for the goods you sell or in wages for the work you do. That puts prices up for the things all of us must buy. We're all in this war together—businessmen, farmers and workers. Increases come out of everybody's pocket—including yours.

SAVINGS

Money in the savings bank will come in handy for emergencies. And money in life insurance protects your family, protects you in old age. So put your money in either or both. Savings banks and insurance companies are helping to finance the war and that money can't push prices up.

WAR BONDS

Buy all you can afford and hang on to them. Bonds put your money to work fighting the war—money that might otherwise be boosting prices by bidding for scarce goods. And War Bonds mean safety for you today against high prices and safety tomorrow against want.

DATE CONSCIOUS? YOU'D BETTER BE

Here is a list of those ration dates, which make calendar-watchers of all local housewives, motorists, or, in fact, anyone who wishes to eat, drive his car, or buy an occasional pair of shoes.

October 31—shoe stamp 18 (in War Ration Book One) was to have expired but OPA extends expiration date indefinitely.

November 1—Book Three "airplane" series stamp No. 1 became valid; good for one pair of shoes.

November 1—stamp No. 29 in Book Four became good November 1, and will be good for 5 pounds of sugar through January 15, 1944.

November 22—No. 9 A gasoline coupon became valid, good for three gallons each, until January 21, 1944.

December 1—green stamps D, E, F in Book Four for processed foods, became good and remain valid through January 20, 1944.

December 26—brown stamps R became valid for purchase of meats, fats, oils, cheeses, and butter; expire January 29, 1944.

January 1. 1944—green stamps G, H, and J (Book Four) become valid for purchase of processed foods.

January 2, 1944 — brown stamps S for meats, etc., became valid; remain good through January 29.

January 9—brown stamps T for purchase of meats, oils, etc., became valid; good to January 29.

January 15, 1944—stamp No. 29 in Book Four for 5 pounds of sugar expires.

January 15 — last date to use Spare Stamp No. 2, War Ration Book Four, for the purchase of fresh pork and sausage. Stamp is worth 5 points.

January 16—sugar stamp No. 30 in War Ration Book Four becomes valid and will be good for buying 5 pounds of sugar through the end of March.

January 16 — brown stamps U, War Ration Book Three, become valid for purchase of meats, etc.

January 20, 1944—green stamps D, E, F, Book Four, for processed foods, expire.

January 21, 1944—No. 9 A gasoline coupons expire.

January 22—A gasoline coupons become valid, good through March 21.

January 23, 1944 — brown stamps V become valid (Book Three) for meats, etc.

January 29, 1944—brown stamps R and S expire.

January 30, 1944 — brown stamps W become valid for meats, etc. (Book Three).

February 6, 1944 — brown stamps X become valid (Book Three).

February 13, 1944—brown stamps Y become valid to use in purchase of meats, etc. (Book Three).

February 20, 1944—brown stamps Z become valid (Book Three).

February 20, 1944—green stamps G, H, and J (Book Four) for buying processed foods expire.

February 26, 1944—brown stamps V, W, and X expire.

February 29, 1944—deadline for inspection of tires for B gasoline book holders.

March 20, 1944—brown stamps Y and Z (Book Three) expire.

March 30, 1944—deadline for inspection of tires for A book holders.

March 31—sugar stamp No. 30 for 5 pounds of sugar expires March 31.

30 DAYS' NOTICE ON STAMP 18

The public will be given 30 days' notice, should it become necessary to terminate Shoe Ration Stamp 18. This announcement was made recently by OPA to "kill" scare-buying rumors that the validity period of Stamp 18 might be cancelled with only 24 hours' notice to consumers.

BROWN POINTS FOR WASTE FATS

For every pound of fat a housewife turns in to her meat dealer or other fat salvager, she receives two brown points, beginning December 13. "But most important," Herbert M. Faust, director of WPB's Salvage division said, "within a month the fat will be transformed into war materials and on the way to the fighting fronts." He reminded housewives to save the grease from turkeys, geese, ducks, and chickens, for the manufacture of war products.

For That Afternoon Snack

THOSE of you who love coffee . . . and who doesn't . . . will be delighted with these little coffee-flavored sponge cakes. Served with iced coffee they are perfect when you are a bit hungry in the late afternoon or evening and feel the need of a bit of nourishment. Be sure to get the most out of your coffee by making it fresh each time you serve it. It's wise to make the coffee a bit stronger than usual to allow for melting ice.

Out of the ordinary are these little Coffee-Flavored Sponge Cakes. A small amount of leftover coffee will do the trick and the result is delicious. They are very quick to make, requiring only 20 minutes in the oven. Also they need no shortening, which is a most important item these days. Serve them with iced coffee for that afternoon or evening snack. Here's the way to make Coffee-Flavored Sponge Cake:

Coffee-Favored Sponge Cake

1 cup sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 cup sugar
¼ cup hot leftover coffee

Mix and sift flour with baking powder and salt. Break eggs in bowl, add sugar, and beat until very light and fluffy. Add coffee and beat again. Fold in flour gradually. Bake in small greased muffin pans about 20 minutes in moderate oven (375° F.) Yield: 2½ dozen small cup cakes.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

SINCE the New Year is just starting the Sunday dinner may include pork or ham, of which there is an ample supply, particularly pork loins and smoked hams. Poultry is out of the question except fresh-killed chickens reaching the market after the government's recent withdrawal order. Lamb and veal supplies are less, and no increase in beef is anticipated.

A brighter outlook is seen in the vegetable and citrus supplies, however, according to the A & P Service for Homemakers. Yams, sweet and white potatoes are in excellent supply, and although bunched carrots are limited a ready substitute is available in ample supplies of topped carrots. Iceberg lettuce continues plentiful and new Florida peas are arriving. Texas spinach is coming in, reasonably priced, while the same is true of the Wakefield variety of Florida cabbage.

The citrus supply continues abundant with tangerines in liberal quantities at reasonable prices and Florida oranges are plentiful. Pink grapefruit is arriving from Texas, and a fair supply continues of apples, grapes and pears.

Attractive menus can be prepared for the Sunday dinner from moderately-priced items, as follows:

No. 1
Tomato Juice Cocktail
Roast Fresh Ham
Cinnamon Apples
Candied Sweet Potatoes
Buttered Spinach
Eggnog Ice Cream
Coffee

No. 2
Half Grapefruit
Stuffed Shoulder of Pork
Roast Potatoes
Creamed Carrots and Celery
Cole Slaw
Sweet Potato Pie
Coffee or Tea

No. 3
Carrot Sticks Stuffed Celery
Curried Lamb or Veal
with Boiled Rice
Green Peas
Avocado and Grapefruit Salad
Cookies
Coffee or Tea

Bare Shoulder Vogue

DAYTIME hemlines and nighttime decolletage, the memorable evening fashion of the year, give impetus to holiday dressing ritual. Foliage green crepe was chosen by CBS singer Sally ("Sammy Kaye Show") Stuart for special dine-and-dance dates. Glove like sleeves and self-material corsage give rich but simple character to the silver-slim lines. (From Saks-Fifth Avenue, New York.)

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

Novels with a religious theme have been among the notable best sellers in the past few years. First to make its mark was "The Nazarene," by Sholem Asch, which was a Book-of-the-Month Club selection in 1939. Two years later, "The Keys of the Kingdom," by A. J. Cronin, also a Club selection, was the number one best-seller for many months, as was still a third book-of-the-month, "The Song of Bernadette," by Franz Werfel, the following year. "The Robe," by Lloyd Douglas, which has proved phenomenally popular, was also published in 1942, and now Sholem Asch's new novel, "The Apostle," is meeting with the same public favor.

JENNIFER JONES

First of these big novels to reach the screen is "The Song of Bernadette," with Jennifer Jones playing the role of the French peasant girl, Bernadette Soubirous. "The Keys of the Kingdom" is also in production, and "The Robe" is likewise on Hollywood's schedule. It will be interesting to see if the motion picture versions of these novels meet with the same kind of popularity as have the books they are based on.

Albert Spalding, in his autobiography, "Rise to Follow," tells this story on himself. During a recent tour, he was on a train going West and had shut himself up in his compartment to practice. A friend, who was waiting for him outside, noticed a girl across the aisle who looked very unhappy. He asked her what the matter was. She indicated the compartment where Spalding was. "Don't you like music?" the man asked. "Music!" she snorted. "You call that music?" He said it sounded all right to him. "There is nothing so painful," was the severe reply, "as inferior violin playing to ears accustomed to the best . . . if you want to hear what the violin can sound like," she added pointing to an advertisement in a Los Angeles paper, "I advise you to attend this concert." The advertisement was for a forthcoming concert by the famous violinist, Albert Spalding.

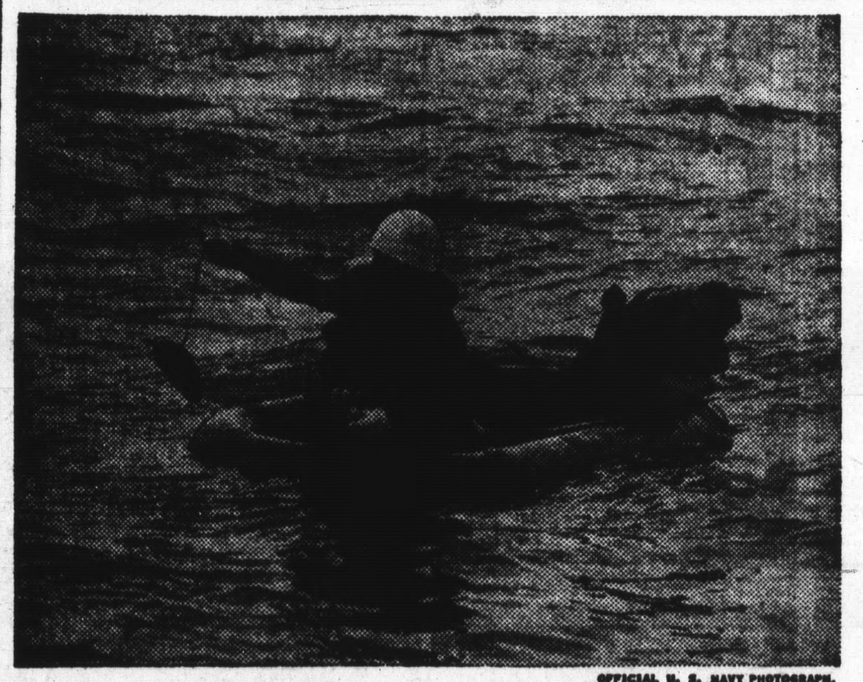
Eddie Cantor in his introduction to "World's Book of Best Jokes" says that his favorite Dorothy Parker story concerns her visit to the country estate of some friends for the week end. It was so boring to her that she almost immediately sent the following telegram to a friend: "Please send me a loaf of bread—and enclose a saw and file."

How Castaways Fish for Food



OFFICIAL U. S. NAVY PHOTOGRAPH.

No longer do castaways on a life raft need to fear starvation and thirst. A simple, compact, complete, and fool-proof emergency fishing kit is now standard equipment on all lifeboats, rafts, and planes of the Navy, Army, and Merchant Marine. Hooks, lines, lures, spear, bait, and a net provide the means to catch food. The fish shown has been snagged in the back by treble-gang hooks from the kit.

LUCCA MEAT MARKET

HOURS: 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.

Ration points and dollars buy more meat when you spend them with a reliable, conscientious dealer. Prime quality and cuts "made to your order" have been standards upon which were built our successful meat department, and which mean more to your advantage today than ever before. Let LUCCA'S MEAT MARKET help solve your food problem.

In spite of wartime difficulties, we do maintain delivery service for feeds where it is impossible for the customer to carry home his purchases. We do this as a patriotic effort, one of our ways in which to keep the home front "clicking" while our men are fighting "out there."

However, we must ask that whenever possible, feeds be picked up at our store. Please do not ask us to unnecessarily expend vital manpower and transportation to carry these purchases. Doing your part in this will be a great favor to us, as well as aiding the war effort.
